For example, you can program the remote to control your TV, DVD player and CD player. This is advantageous to you because you can easily control any device you want without fumbling around looking for a different remote for each device. Find the device code for the device you want to control with your Philips remote. Look in the user manual or click the link in the "Resources" section to find codes. Turn on the device (TV, VCR, DVD player, etc.) that you want to program. Press and hold the "Code Search" button. This button can be found in the upper left corner of the Philips remote. Release the "Code Search" button once the red indicator light stays lit. Press and then release the device you want to program. The device keys are located across the top of the Philips remote control. Enter the three-digit code. The red indicator light turns off after the correct code has been entered. Press the "Power" button on the Philips remote, and the device you are programming should turn off. By Alexandra Livezey | Laura Vryhof/Demand Media There are two ways to set a Philips Universal Remote to control your TV, DVD player, VCR or digital cable box: manually or automatically. Follow the steps for manual programming first. If the remote still does not control the device, complete the steps that follow to program your remote automatically. i Laura Vryhof/Demand Media Turn on the TV to channel 1. If the device is a DVD player/recorder or video recorder, insert a disk or tape. i Laura Vryhof/Demand Media Press and hold the "Code Search" button on the Philips Universal Remote until the red indicator light stays on. Release the "Code Search" button. i Laura Vryhof/Demand Media Press and release the desired mode button on the remote for the device you want to control (TV, DVD or Cable). The red indicator blinks and then remains lit. i Laura Vryhof/Demand Media Look up the manufacturer of the TV or device you want to control (i.e., "Magnavox") on the list of device code numbers that came with your remote. Enter the code on the keypad of the remote. The red indicator turns off if the code is valid. The red indicator flashes if the code is invalid. i Laura Vryhof/Demand Media Press "Channel Up" on the remote. If the device responds, no further programming is necessary. Press the "Play" button to test the remote when setting a DVD player or VCR. i Laura Vryhof/Demand Media Search for codes automatically on your remote if your device does not respond after manual entry. Press and hold the "Code Search" button on your remote until the red indicator stays on, then release the "Code Search" button. i Laura Vryhof/Demand Media Press and quickly release the desired mode button (TV, DVD, Cable). The red indicator blinks once. i Laura Vryhof/Demand Media Press the "Channel Up" button repeatedly (up to 300 times) until the device responds. The red indicator blinks with each button press. Press "Channel Down" to go back if you accidentally overshoot the code. Search using the "Play" button for DVD players or other devices that do not have channels. i Laura Vryhof/Demand Media Press and release the "Mute" button to install the code.
